In intellect, statesmanship and executive power, he is one of the first men in the whole country. His speeches and views on figures in the summer of 1867, were the carliest, and were among the ablest expoone of the Democratic policy on that now most momentous subject. The Previous Question and Ten OHIO LEGISLATURE. Per Cent. Interest. ere present in the Ohio Senate du ing the somewhat exciting scenes attendent upon the passage of the ten per cent. interest law.

The author of the law is one ABEL M COREY, of Fulton county. He is a preachera red hot gospeller, and although a ten per cent. law maker, he is not more than a one per cent. preacher, and we doubt very uch, when it comes to balance his law making account with his service in the vineyard of the Lord, whether it will not found that his talent was worse than buried, and that it has brought considerable more than ten per cent. in favor of the eyil one. The "money changers" seem to have ssion I the temple, and this brother of Cain, instead of following the precept of his Lord and Muster, like the si k Irishman that was exhorted to denounce the deviand all his works, proposes first to be cer-those he might make enemies. Mr. Coner has been excused from attendance upon the Senate during nearly all of the present session on account of the alleged severe sickness of a member of his family. This ten per cent. interest bill, at the last winter's session, was postponed until the first Wednesday of the present session. On account of the absence of this same Mr. Corry, its political father, and out of courtesy to him as the author of the bill it was not called up at that time, but was permitted to lie upon the table. But the money changers became anxious about their claims upon this servant of the Lord, and wanted their pay. So ABEL, regardless of the wants of a suffering family, but a day before the time of the regular adjournment from Friday to Tuesday, posts in hot haste for Columbus, and demand that the Senate proceed to the consideration of his only effort in the law making line, the ten per cent. bill. It was meet that this scheme of the money wolves should be clad in sheep skin, and ABEL being so doubly disguised, must be the champion. The bill came up on his motion. Mr. SCRIBNER asked that it be postponed only for a few days, in order that his colleague, Mr. Rex, who was detained at the death bed of a loved child, and who had sent word that he strongly desired to be heard in opposition to the bill before the Senate passed upon it, might be pres ent, but the ten per cent. preacher objected Senator after Senator protesting against this undue haste and this sudden and unexpected springing of the question, asked that they might have only a few hours, only until the next day, to prepare to give their reasons for opposing the bill, but the money changers and their friends sustained the ten per cent. preacher in objecting. Messrs. GRISWOLD, POTTS, and one or two others, made a show of resistance to the application of the gag-law as moved by Mr. DANGLER, when they knew, as every man in the Senate knew, that there was no excuse in the circumstances, nor any claim of public need for it; but the money lenders were anxious, and the ten per cent. preacher inexorable, and, without a parallel in the history of legislation in this or any other country, without a single claim of public necessity, without any claim that any possible circumstance except the interest of a very small minority ed, absent Senators, attendant upon beds of sickness and death, were denied a hearing, and the "money changers" and the ten per cent. preacher were triumphant. Upon the demand for the previous questhe fact that this gag had been applied, upon one or two occasions, by the Democratic members during the session last winter as an excuse for their action at this time. The following is his position nearly in his own words: "The treaty is unjust to the United States, because it assumes the measures of injury inflicted upon this country by the money value of ships actually destroyed, whereas the chief damage to our commerce was in our ships being driven from the seas by Anglo-rebel pirates. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Do not Trifle with Danger. A sing'e spark may kindle a flame that will con-sume a city, and small ailments neglected, may end in fatal disorders. Bearing this fact in mind let the first symptoms of debilty or nervous protration be met promptly with invigorating treatment. Foremost among the vegetable tonics of the are stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BIT-PERS, and whenever the vital powers seem to languish, or there is any reason to suspect that the an-imal functions essential to the sustenation and pu-rification of the body are imperfectly performed. rification of the body are imperfectly performed, this invaluable invigorant and antiseptic should at once be resorted to. Indigestion always produces weakness. Sometimes it happons,—and this is more frequently the case in Winter than at any other season,—that the appetite demands more food than the stemsch can digest; though not more, perhaps, than is required to keep up the full strength of the frame. The object, under such circumstances, is to increase the digestive capacity of the assimilating organ, so as to make it exual to the duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable of supplying the outling material of the system as fast as it is required. This object is fully accomplished by the use of the Bitters. They tone and plished by the use of the Bitters. They tone and gently stimulate the celular membrane which secretes the gastric juice, and the result is that the solvent is mingled with the food in sufficient quantity to convert all its nourishing particles into pure and wholesome element. If, on the other hand-there is a deficiency of appetite, without any corresponding deficiency of digestive power, the effect of the tonic is to stimu ate a desire for food. In ainsteen cases out of twenty, headsohe, nauses, nervousness, fainting fits, spasms, and, indeed, most of the casual aches and pains to which humanity is subject, proceed primarily from indigestion complisubject, proceed primarily from indigestion compli-cated with biliousness; and for both these complaints HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are rec-ands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the billowing complaints, but such cures are known in very neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomed or any deleterions drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar costining preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity. They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangoments as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Piller rapidly cure:—

For Byspepsia or Endigension, Listicasmess, Languer and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Hillious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundlee or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Byspeatery or Blarrhoos, but one mild dose is generally required.

action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Bysentery or Biarrhees, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatisms, Gout, Gravel, Falpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear. the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Bropsy and Bropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Disner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often and vantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.
